Fire Warning for all genealogists!

There is a potential firebomb in your house! Fire marshals across the country have been alerted that between 1889 and the mid 1950s, all film contained nitric acid. This means ALL FILM - negatives, slides, home movies. With age, this film will self-combust, especially in attics and basements.

This is a very real danger, but there are some things you can do. You can have each piece of film tested - or test it yourself using a special pen from an archival products company. Your best with old film is to have new copies made on modern film. The old film should be destroyed - very carefully because nitric acid fumes are toxic.

News from Iowa

The Decorah Genealogy Association, 202 Winnebago, Decorah, IA 52101, sends word that as of July 1, 1997, the Iowa Clerk of Courts will no longer do genealogy searches and all vital records will become the responsibility of the county recorders. The last three years, the Decorah Genealogy Association has been copying the Winneshiek County, Iowa Clerk of Court vital records and has nearly a complete set.

The DGA is taking orders for their new Winneshiek County Biography. This book will include 1400 family histories and over 900 photographs of residents and families of Winneshiek County. Copies are $55 plus $5.50 s/h.

Don't neglect mortality schedules

Don't forget to search mortality schedules in your searches for an ancestor. Lists of persons who did in their districts in the preceding 12 months (for example, from 1 June 1849 to 1 June 1850), were compiled in 1850, 1860, 1870 and 1880 by the Census Bureau's enumerators. Like the population schedules, these mortality lists were compiled on a geographic basis, although virtually all of them have since been indexed. The original documents were not kept by the National Archives but were sent to regional repositories. Most are available on microfilm from National Archives Record Service or through the Family History Library and its Family History Center and other outlets. These schedules are quite similar to the population lists, with the addition of information as the month and cause of death and the name of the attending physician.

American as Bobby Jones in Kate Kennedy procession

American Cliff Jones portrayed Bobby Jones in the Kate Kennedy Procession in St. Andrews, Scotland recently. A gentleman who knew the real Bobby Jones remarked about a stunning resemblance. Cliff has just completed his second year at the University of St. Andrew in Scotland. He was one of the few Americans to be accepted into the Kate Kennedy Society and will serve as Treasurer this coming year. He is a 1994 graduate of the Westminster Schools in Atlanta and an Honours Major (Modern History) at St. Andrews.

Commonly carved symbols on stones are two hands in the spread-fingered gesture of priestly blessing on the gravestone of a Cohen (priest) - a descendant of the High Priest Aaron, the brother of Moses. Another common symbol is a pitcher or pitcher and bowl, marking tombs of Levites, or descendants of the tribe of Levi, priestly assistants who traditionally washed the hands of the priests.

Lions, symbolizing both the tribe of Judah and personal names such as Lev or Leib, meaning Lion, are also common. Books mark the graves of particularly learned people; hands placing coins into charity boxes denote those who were of philanthropic. caduceus symbols represent doctors. Sometimes the symbol of the fraternal order of the deceased is carved into the stone i.e. Masons or Shriners (each has Jewish orders). Hobbies and avocations are reflected by tombstone carvings as well. A shofar signifies the one buried blew the Shofar (ram's horn) for Yom Kipper during his lifetime. Candles often mark the graves of women, representing the ritual of women lighting the Sabbath lights. Sometimes broken candles or trees are carved into the stones to symbolize death. A bee = Deborah; Rose = Rose, the name or represents Israel; a stag and crown = the name Hirsch & Keter Shem Tov (crown of good name); doves = happily married couple.

On some tombstones, we find pictures of our relatives (common among former Soviet Union Jews). The epitaphs sometimes relate to the personality of the one buried. In many instances, we can find biographical information carved in stone - it may say "beloved husband, father and grandfather," or it may say "beloved husband of Ruth, loving father of Isaac, Rachel and Schmu-el, devoted grandfather of Melissa, Kristen, Sean and Derrick." The second epitaph would tell me, by virtue of the name types, that the second generation either assimilated or intermarried to give them such secular names. I would not look for this family in an Chasidic community!

Some tombstones bear only the name, dates of birth and death and maybe the Hebrew name. Some, sadly, just give a name and date of death.

How to Read Jewish Tombstones

Practical Considerations When Visiting a Cemetery

1. Wear comfortable shoes and long pants - hilly or thistles.
2. Take sun screen, a scarf for perspiration, work gloves for handling fallen stones

3. Bring a first aid kit and drinking water

4. Always let someone know where you are if you go alone. Check into the cemetery office.

5. Take a little shovel to clear away debris covering a stone in the ground.

6. Bring a camera to document the stones or crypts.

7. Take something along to highlight tombstone carving if worn down.

8. Take the following supplies along with you: yellow legal pads (color reduces sun glare), pens/pencils, little shovel, whisk broom and something to carry it all in.

9. Wear a fanny pack or back pack for your wallet and keys.

10. You might want to leave a note at the gravesite if you think someone has been caring for the burial place. (You might want to leave a copy of your pedigree chart laminated and enclosed in a tall olive jar - along with your thank-you note.)

Always remember to be respectful during your visit; try not to walk on the graves themselves and speak in a low voice. Leave the gravesite in

TRACKING THE SEA VOYAGE AND EARLY SETTLEMENT

(BO 1) A New Chart of the Vast Atlantic Ocean Exhibiting the Seat of War Both in Europe and America. Originally produced by Emmanuel Bowen about 1755, the map shows the eastern coast of North America, from New France to the West Indies. Western Europe and West Africa are also depicted from Ireland to the Slave Coast. Early settlements in North America are identified as well as the usual shipping routes from the Old World to the New. For those interested in early settlement and early migration routes from Europe this map will be most helpful. $5.95

(BO 13) Bowen's Map of the West Indies. Emmanuel Bowen's map entitled An Accurate Map of the West Indies..., first issued in the 1740s, shows the West Indies, Central America and parts of New Spain, the Gulf Coast region, and the British possessions as far north as the Chesapeake Bay. Forts, settlements and Indian villages along the Mississippi River are also identified. Also plots the Spanish Gold Fleet route and the route of passage from London to the West Indies and on to the British colonies in North America. $5.95

THE EARLY NORTHEAST

(BO 10) New York, New England and the Middle Colonies: 1673. Entitled "Totius

Neobelgii Nova et Accuratissima Tabula", this map by the Dutch cartographers R.& J. Ottens depicts the settled portions of North America north of the Chesapeake Bay. With its handsome cartouche and inset views of New Amsterdam, our 18" X 22" reissue of a 19th century version of the famous "Restitutio" map faithfully captures the spirit of the original. A fascinating map for those researching this area and time period. $5.95

(BO 6) A Chorographical Map of the Northern Department of North America, Drawn from the Latest and Most Accurate Observations. Originally drawn about 1780, our reprint was made from John Gavit's mid-19th century engraving. Depicting part of New York north of the lower Hudson valley, and from its eastern boundary to the south shore of Lake Ontario, this fascinating map identifies settlements and grantee lands in the neighboring parts of Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. Settlements along the St. Lawrence and Richelieu Rivers are also identified. $5.95

COLONIAL SALEM

(BO 19) Salem, Massachusetts - 1700. Constructed by James Duncan Phillips in 1933 for inclusion in his book Salem in the Seventeenth Century, this map entitled Part of Salem in 1700 identifies every landholder on the Salem peninsula and surrounding vicinity in 1700. Based on the earlier research of noted Salem historian Sidney Perley, this map is a unique and important reference tool. 23" X 29", including margins. $6.95

COLONIAL NEW YORK

(HO 1) New York: 1779. Entitled "A Chorographical Map of the Province of New York in North America", Claude Joseph Sauthier's map was one of the finest and most detailed maps of the Revolutionary period. Depicting part of the British Middle Colonies from northern New Jersey to Canada, the rich detail locates towns, cities, manors, and patents from the New Hampshire border west to the unsettled lands. Our map, taken from a later engraving, has been reproduced on two 23" x 29" sheets, which may be dissected and joined together.

The two sheets: $13.95

(BO 11) A Plan of the City of New York from an Actual Survey: 1728. First drawn by James Lyne in 1728, this plan identifies the city's wards, streets and principal buildings. (18" X 22"). $5.95

(BO 2) A Map of the Manor of Rensselaerwick, Surveyed and Laid Down... Jno. R. Bleeker, Surveyor - 1767. Essentially a survey, this map of the manor, which includes modern-day Albany and Rensselaer Counties, locates important creeks and roads, as well as several hundred settler's houses. $5.95

(BO 3) A Map of the Towns of Livingston, Germantown, and Clermont in the County of Columbia, Compiled From Actual Surveys in January, 1798 by John Wigram, 1798. (The Livingston Manor). This handsome map shows roads, farms, mills and churches. $5.95

(BO 9) 1790 Patent Map - Mohawk and Schoharie Valleys. Our 18" X 21" reprint shows the area south of the Mohawk to the headwaters of the Delaware and Susquehanna Rivers, and west from the Manor of Rensselaerwyck to the Oriskany Patent. The names of the patentees and grantees, as well as the dates of acquisition, are shown. $5.95

THE PHILADELPHIA AREA

(BO 17) Philadelphia & Environs 1750. This 19th century redrawing of the famous Scull & Heap map of "Philadelphia and Parts Adjacent" shows the road system around Philadelphia, nearby creeks and rivers and the names of large landholders outside the city limits. $5.95

(BO 18) Philadelphia County Circa 1681.

This 19th century engraving is a facsimile of a portion of Holme's map of the Province of Pennsylvania. In addition to some topographical detail, this map shows the names and holdings of the hundreds of original purchasers of land from William Penn. Townships and large proprietary manors are also shown. A useful companion piece to map (BO 17) above. $5.95

Commander Ralph Stevenson of New Mexico Post 1912 of the Scottish-American Military Society and Historian Dr. Richard Melzer, display the new book in front of the late war correspondent's home in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Ernie Pyle remembered on his birthday★★

Many people fondly remember Ernie Pyle, the World War II correspondent. His tour in the European Battle Theater kept American families abreast of their young GI's on the move or in the trenches. His coverage of the Pacific Theater lead to his death by a Japanese sniper.

Ernie, who was of Scottish descent, is celebrated on his birthday, August 3, in Albuquerque, New Mexico. SAMS Post 1912 provides a tribute to him and a forum to read books and to share Ernie's home - now a public library. This year, Dr. Richard Melzer presented his book Ernie Pyle in the American Southwest. A book signing and tour of the Pule Memorial Library followed the pipes of Brett Davis and a patriotic opening program.

If you would like to order a copy of Ernie Pyle in the American Southwest, send $18.95 plus $3.50 s/h for each book (and 6.25% NM tax for NM residents) to: Sunstone Press, PO Box 2321, Santa Fe, NM 87504.

Excellence in Writing Competition open now

The Council of Genealogy Columnists, Inc., announces the 1997 Excellence in Writing Competition for members only. Non-members are encouraged to join ($15 per year) and enter the contest. The CGC was organized in 1986 to encourage high standards of genealogical journalism, to provide a forum for genealogy columnists, to encourage international use of genealogy columns in researching a family's history, and encourage promotion of genealogy columns in areas not yet served. The annual competition for members was begun in 1989. Areas judged by professionals in the field of journalism include columns of general interest, ethnic and/or geographic interest and writers of journal columns. Competition is also open to "would-be" columnists. As bonus, entrants receive copies of all winning columns. Winners will be notified by April 15 and awards presented during the annual NGS Conference in the States to be held in Valley Forge, PA May 7 - 10, 1997. For further details and entry forms, write Carllene Marek, CGC Competition Coordinator, 13492 Aurora Ct., Magalia, CA 95954-9541.

A letter from

Mr. Metcalf...

Dear Editor,

Some time ago you included an article from our Pea River Trails quarterly.

You can be sure that your publication is well read all over the country, for I received letters about the errors in it, for which I apologize.

I included this article in a book of devotionals in which I wrote about some of the devotionals I had used in my church work through the years, so I thought others might be interested in these oddities in the Bible. I'm sure you know how things get changed from copying from one thing to another. For your information I am enclosing a corrected copy of this article. These oddities are in the King James version, which I prefer to the other versions of the Bible written.

Respectfully,
Clayton G. Metcalf

The longest name in the Bible is found in Isaiah 8:1. This is: Mahershalalhashbaz.

The longest verse is the 9th verse of the 8th chapter of Esther.

The shortest verse is John 11:35: Jesus wept.

The name of God is not mentioned in the entire book of Esther.

The longest chapter is the 119th Psalm; the shortest chapter is: The 117th Psalm.

One of the best reading chapters in the Bible is the 26th chapter of Acts.

Airplanes are prophesied in Isaiah 31:5.

Television is prophesied in Revelations 11:9.

Atomic energy or nuclear fission, is foretold in II Peter 3:10-14.

Space satellites are mentioned in Obadiah 2-5. Radio, or wireless, is mentioned in Job 38:34-35.

COSCA Report

Col. Bob McWilliam

A couple of notes from the last COSCA (Council of Scottish Clans and Associations) report concerning the promotion of a specific date for Tartan Day. Keets Taylor, Secretary/Treasurer of the Catawba Valley Scottish Society, sponsors of the Loch Norman Highland Games, Huntersville, NC (just north of Charlotte) sent a letter telling of their efforts for supporting April 6th as the day to get the tartan "out of the closet." Also received was a letter from Dale F. Baird, Sr., President of the Clan Baird Society Worldwide, which I am taking the liberty to quote from concerning using July 1st as Tartan Day.

Good thoughts and a great last paragraph.

"I read with interest your comments in the last issue on Tartan Day and the question on which date it should be celebrated.

Clan Baird and the St. Andrews' Society of Colorado, have been instrumental in the selection of July 1 being declared "Scottish Tartan Day" by the state legislature of Colorado, just this last March.

Why July 1st? As you may know, many of the St. Andrew organizations throughout the United States and Canada have for years promoted this date as it represents a time in our history when the dignity of our forefathers was given back to them. The date that the Act of Repeal was signed by King George III, when they could again wear thye kilt with the tartan of their Clan - July 1. The tartan was a symbol of the love of family which was so interwoven into their lives.

The only reason Canada did not designate July 1st was that it had been selected years earlier as their Canada Day.

Colorado is second to the great state of Tennessee in proclaiming a Tartan Day. Tennessee has selected June 24 as their Scottish, Scots-Irish Heritage Day. That day, Robert the Bruce defeated the English at Bannockburn. In Virginia, Mecklenburg County has designated April 6th - the day of Declaration of Arboath was signed.

No matter which day you wish to honor our heritage, the important thing to remember is that we do remember the important things our ancestors have handed down to us over the years; love of country, love of life and love of family. As Voltaire was prompted to say, "We look to Scotland for all our ideas of civilization."

The Catawba Valley Scottish Society also supports Scottish studies programs at Davidson College, Queen's College, Warren Wilson College, St. Andrew's Presbyterian College and Erskine & Presbyterian Colleges. Last year, when I saw these college tents at the Loch Norman Games, I thought of the University of Wisconsin's program and how it might be explored to meet possible similar needs among those schools supported by the games.

The University of Wisconsin has an organization called the West Central Wisconsin Consortium - made up of four Wisconsin University Campuses located in Eau Claire, LaCrosse, River Falls and Stout. They put together a program called Wisconsin in Scotland. they lease Dalkeith House, a remodeled 18th century manor house on a wooded estate 6 miles out of Edinburgh. A magnificent example of late William and Mary architecture with kitchen, dining, classroom and faculty facilities. There is also a lounge and recreation room. There is space for about 80 students in the manor.

The curriculum includes mainstream courses found at all four University Campuses with additional courses specifically related to the study of Scotland and Great Britain and a mandatory cultural orientation course.

The faculty are taken from each of the four member campuses on a rotating basis with adjunct Scottish faculty from Edinburgh and Sterling Universities. The cost per semester is the same for a university resident attending any one of the member campuses, but includes the round trip air fare. The program started in 1986087 and is self-supporting. My wife, son and myself spent three nights at the palace in June of 1993 and thoroughly enjoyed its beautiful rooms and grounds. As a University of Wisconsin Law School alumnus, the cost to stay there was a real bargain.

For more information about the University of Wisconsin in Scotland program, write the Executive Director, West Central Wisconsin Consortium Office, 410 S. Third St., River Falls, WI 54022.

A Potpourri of Genealogy

Maria M. Baker, Associate Professor of History, Director of the Evening Program, Abraham Baldwin College, Tifton, Georgia Trustee, Odam Genealogical Library, Moultrie, Georgia

If you have any questions or suggestions, you may contact me at Absalom Baker Farm, 7451 GA Highway 37 East, Nor Requests and comments keep coming about Internet. Not only have they arrived by E-Mail, but also by the postal service. People are interested, and should be interested, in what is being put on the Net about genealogy. Almost, every time you go on the Net there is something new to be found. The amount of information is unlimited. Using the internet is like doing genealogy, both are like being a detective to uncover possible links that might give you information. But, a word of warning about the internet, there are many mistakes out there, and this concerns me. Remember that you always have to determine in genealogy if your information is valid. I have found a cemetery listing this week, and I was appalled at the mistakes not only in the names of people, but also in the birth and death dates. A person needs to be very careful about correctness, because when a mistake or sloppy work is done, somebody is going to take it as being correct! Also, I am concerned about plagiarism.

What is plagiarism? It is copying or using the work of another person(author) or people(authors) and not giving them the credit. It does not have to be a book, it can be a paragraph or it can be an article. Just because you buy a book, does not give you the right to copy that material, and put your name to it. It does not give a person the right to copy the material to a homepage on the Internet without giving credit to the author. Hopefully, we want to save the integrity of family history and genealogy, because more and more material is becoming available, and as a result it will become much easier to do research.

For example, the next time you go on the Net, do a search and write in the term, United States census. When I did this on the Magellan Internet Guide, I got 11,369 results returned, and they were ranked by relevancy. Of course there is much recent material pertaining to the 1990s, but you can wade through, and find useful items. One listing here gives the address of Genealogy Online as <http://www.genealogy.org/>. This gives a sampling of the 1880 census of the United States. It gives links to historical and genealogical collections. Magellan also leads you to the State University of New York at Buffalo and the US Gazetteer Geographic Name Server, whose address is <http://wings.buffalo.edu/geogw>. This gives information on U.S. towns and cities. This is helpful where you are searching for a town or city. The University of Michigan Library's Gopher System gives connections to online library catalogs worldwide. You find it at gopher://una.hh.lib.umich.edu.

Doing a search from the Lycos catalog on the Internet I found 177,733 documents for United States census. Included here was the address for the United States Census home page. It is <http://anansi.panix.com/userdirs/persicum/usgov.html>. I must remind you that these addresses must be written space for space correctly, or you will not access the location.

An Infoseek search of the internet on United States Census gives 62,836 addresses to the internet. At <http://www.firstct.com/fv/uscensus.html> gives information on the census records. It also gives how to use the soundex, and how to use the census in your research.

Using the search engine Excite(<http://www.excite.com/se>) there were 4,872,520 documents pertaining to the United States census. Information on all censuses through 1920 can be found at <http://www.firstct.com/fv/uscensus.html>. This tells what information can be found in each census. It also gives the background of the United States Federal Census. It also discusses the Soundex and how to use it. This is especially helpful if you are just beginning your genealogy or family history. Also, listed here is the 1830 United States Census at <http://www.vii.com/dlp/1830/1830.html>. This is actually a census of North Carolina. There is plenty of material on the internet on census records. One of the best things to do is just to do a search on the internet and write in Census and the year which you want. There are various records for many counties throughout the United States.

But, you do have to be aware of mistakes.

If you haven't checked out the Genealogy Bulletin Board at <http://www.genealogybulletinboard.com> You need to check out this site. It gives you a variety of opportunities Security death list. The address is <http://www.infobases.com/ssdi/de> Page can be found at <http://www.naxs.com/people/logicpro/gen.htm>. good source is the Valley of the Shadow pertaining to <http://jefferson.village.virginia.edu/vshadow2/govdoc.html>.

The Family Tree, this paper, is located at <http://www.teleport.com> check this out.

Now to turn to another matter. Terrell County, Georgia, Newspaper from 1866 to 1872, has been published by Elizabeth Evans Kilbourne age. It can be ordered from Tad Evans, 1506 Stillwood Drive, Savannah, GA 912-925-1478. Terrell County was created from Lee and Randolph Counties, Georgia, December, 1872. The only newspaper in Terrell County doing this to have people of interest in this area of Georgia, this book is worth checking out for that period of time.

Blair member wins Emmy!

Clan Blair Society member, Jim Barnett, a video editor with NFL Films, was the recipient of an Emmy Award recently for outstanding sports editing. Congratulations.

sometimes find that funds can't cover the number of worthy applicants. It often gets down to the painful, frustrating sorting out of who gets how much."

I have been a member of the Clan Donald USA Scholarship Committee for several years and this has always been a chronic problem until recently. Bruce MacDonald, the chairman of the committee, together with others, has worked out a great scholarship program and check list that helps considerably in allocating of funds among various applicants. If you are looking for a stress-free program, write Bruce A. MacDonald, 12959 Homestead Drive, White Bear Lake, MN 55110.

Inquiry cards to all Clans

Scotty Gallamore, our COSCA Clan Inquiry Coordinator, tells me that our last count of inquiry cards sent to various clans is close to 1700.

Workshops at Grandfather in 1997

We are presently working on a new project; a COSCA workshop at Lee's McRae College on Friday afternoon, July 11, 1997. At present, and subject to Clan interest, we hope to offer a variety of one hour courses covering Scottish history, Gaelic, newsletter editing, Clan concerns (tents, membership, publicity, supplies, sales, mailings), History of Tartan, Being Scottish - Myths and Reality. We plan to provide 1-3 sessions for $15 per participant. We would welcome hearing about other ideas you might have for presentation and whether or not you would attend such programs.

John MacLeod
of MacLeod in the US

John MacLeod of MacLeod, Chief of the Clan MacLeod, was on a US and Canada tour raising money (about 1.5 million pounds) for building a Celtic Art Center near the MacLeod's Dunvegan Castle. The center will display memorabilia, store archives, host parliaments, display exhibits and serve as a MacLeod Clan Center.

On August 27, MacLeod was in Chicago for a fund raising dinner and reception. John F. McDonald, a Trustee for the Clan Donald Lands Trust, which administers 20,000 acres of the Isle of Skye, was in Milwaukee on business that day. We drove to Chicago to hear what John MacLeod had to say.

The dinner and reception was held - where else? - at McDonald's World Headquarters. The dinner site was at the lodge, a hotel on the McDonald grounds used to host trainees and visitors at Hamburger U - as it is called. The dinner and reception was well-attended and was a very enjoyable event. John MacLeod spoke of the need for the MacLeod Center and hoped the Chicago group would support the venture. During the evening, MacLeod asked a good number of questions of John F. concerning the Clan Donald Centre on Skye. We hope he has an opportunity to talk to Rob MacDonald Parker, the director of the Clan Donald Centre, concerning the early days of its building and organization.

You can join COSCA by sending $25, the annual dues, to the Council of Scottish Clans and Associations, PO Box 1110, Moultrie, GA 31776-1110.

Col. Robert McWilliam,
FSA Scot
President, COSCA

A farmer by any name...

George or Georgia may live in the big city, but the two names are both based on a Greek word, originally meant "farmer". Other names with a farm background: Bartholomew (farmer's son); Gordon (pasture land); Morley (from the farm on the moor); Shirley (bright meadow); Leslie (meadowlands); Dale (valley); Rodney (cleared land); and Sharon (a plain).

The same is of last names such as Garfield or Ashcroft. The suffixes "field" and "croft" originally meant farm or farmer.

Worthley/Clark back in Moultrie

George Worthley and Carol
Clark will be performing once again at the Moultrie Scottish Weekend this coming February 22, 23. The husband and wife team come from Portland, Maine and perform up and down the east coast at Highland Games and gatherings.

George sings and plays guitar while wife Carol accompanies on flute, whistle, bodhran, keyboard and Boyd pipes - an electronic version of Scottish smallpipes.

They perform songs of Harry Lauder, Robert Burns and Andy Stewart - along with contemporary Scottish songs and original Scottish American compositions.

They have recorded several albums and will be promoting their latest during the Scottish Weekend.

You will thoroughly enjoy these two! Personable, talented and entertaining! We are so lucky that they will come to our February event!

It began with a Scot

Many years ago, a young Scot captained the Elgin and Inverness football teams. At one of these early matches he startled everyone by going over to the opposing captain and shaking his hand before the game began. In those days it was something completely new. But Alex MacKenzie made a habit of it and now it has become part and parcel of the game. All over the world, before the coin is tossed, captains of football teams shake hands.

With thanks to The Sunflower and the Thistle from the Sterling Scots Heritage Society for that interesting tid-bit and this one too...

Savannah Library to move to temporary quarters

Sometime this fall, the main library in Savannah (2002 Bull St.) will move to temporary quarters while the Bull St. building is being renovated. The temporary quarters will be home to the library for about 18 months. The main library will be closed for approximately one month while the move is taking place.

The staff at the library is asking that genealogical and historical societies, etc., please make your members aware of this information. If anyone is planning a visit to Savannah during the fall months, please call 912-652-3600 before making the trip.

At this time, the address of the temporary headquarters is not known.

"Received my order today on the CARTER and FRENCH families. Thank you so much. I have found my missing link and picked up four new generations of ancestors. I'm so excited by your service." — CRF, Prescott, Arizona.

"I recently ordered papers on Joseph MACKEY by specific document numbers. I received information made up by relatives. I was so elated as it contained three generations further back than I had. You have saved me so much digging in land records, wills, etc. I'm going to order more information on other ancestors. I can't praise you enough for this genealogy service." — MJH, Sandwich, Illinois.

"On my first order to you (re: LUNA) I was able to contact a source who has connected my direct line all the way back to the Isle of Man in ca 1730. My mother and I had no information beyond her father, who had died when she was 11 years old." — PEL, Sacramento, California.

"When I received my STANLEY sheets I took that line back another generation. Since then, with the information on that one chart, I've gone back still another generation." — ST, Lakewood, California.

Add your ancestor's name to the American Immigrant Wall of Honor at Ellis Island

You are invited to register your family name on The American Immigrant Wall of Honor at Ellis Island.

The Wall of Honor is part of the largest restoration project in American history. Over 20 million Americans helped restore the Statue of Liberty for her 100th birthday in 1986.

At the same time, the restoration of the world famous Ellis Island immigration facility through which nearly half of all Americans living today can trace their ancestry.

The name of the family member you choose - your mother, father, grandparent or even yourself can be honored for all time on the Wall of Honor in the shadow of Lady Liberty.

More than 500,000 Americans have been honored on the Wall of Honor. This new Wall will close in 1997 and the names will be added in 1988. Space will be limited, so don't wait.

Thanks to the support of private citizens, the magnificent Main Building on Ellis Island has been restored to its appearance during the peak immigration years of 1918-1924. In addition to the Wall, the Ellis Island Immigration Museum has been created.

The Museum tells the story of America's immigrants in words, pictures, exhibits and sounds. Nearly 10 million people have visited since the museum opened in 1990.

The next important project is to raise $12 million to build The American Family Immigration History Center on Ellis Island. When complete, this facility will be a powerful and fascinating tool that you and your family can use to search for your family's arrival history; learn about immigration

"I recently had a name ARNOLD which was given to you, and the results were astounding!" — GS, Folsom, California.

"After seeing your ad I decided to inquire about my O'REARS. Out of 40 family group sheets you sent, 39 were my ancestors. This took me back four generations beyond what I had to my sixth great grandfather. I never expected anything like this, and I am so happy about it I am still dancing on air. I am recommending your service to everyone I know who is having trouble finding their roots." - CBB, Vancouver, Washington.

"My friend, Percy Putnam Jackson, had me do work for her and through your sheets on the PUTNAM line she connected with the Eben Putnam volumes which took her back to Louis IV" — MKD, Austin, Texas.

"I am pleased to tell you that on BOYD and NASTRI I found my line. I was so excited. I have made contact with people from both lines, and on the BOYD line, have completed 3 more generations. I have given out your order forms to several people at our genealogy library with my success story. You have saved me years of work and put me in touch with long lost relatives." - VBG, Conroe, Texas.

"I sent for my first batches and hit pay dirt with LEBQ. Only 3 sets of families and one was mine. Such a joy and what fun! I think this is a great opportunity to find what we're looking for!" — CTG, Buena Park, California.

The collections - both the Emmett Lucas Collection encompassing the eastern seaboard of the United States and the migration routes west and The Scottish Collection - genealogical and archival materials from our Scottish Clans - absolutely could not grow without the kindness and generosity of our most generous patrons and friends. On behalf of the thousands of genealogists from all over the world who travel to Moultrie to find their own "roots" we thank you all.

If you have books or materials you would like to make a part of the collection in Moultrie, just bring or mail your donation - with a letter or note letting us know if it is to be a part of the "regular" collection - or added to one of the Scots Clan collections. Please indicate if the material is in honor or in memory of someone.

"My day was so exciting when the mail came. The missing link was found on my AMICK ancestors. Many thanks." — JD, Nampa, Idaho.

"Thank you for your prompt attention. My NURSE contact proved to be a goldmine of information!" — RW, Fargo, North Dakota.

"Thank you very much for my recent group sheets that I ordered on the SHIPLEYs I gained a new cousin and a lot more Shipley information for my Shipley Family Newsletter. You do real quality work for a fair real price, especially when you figure the cost of placing a query and waiting for an answer you might not receive." — GLS, Woodstock, Illinois.

"I was so pleased at the fast response I received from my first order. Your presentation of the materials is excellent. The numerous designs of the family group sheets give me many ideas for my own research organization. I have been tracing for about ten years and am at the 'fill in the blanks' stage. I know through your company I will have the opportunity to begin to fill in some of those blanks, and yes, of course, to make new blanks!" — JKH, Altus, Oklahoma.

"Enclosed is a check for $10.00. Please send group sheets for BELCHER family. Last order was a Bonanza!" — JDB, Ormond Beach, Florida.

"I recently received your packet on COMBS and found 6 possibilities and my second letter produced results which took me back two generations earlier than I had. Thank you for your excellent service." — LSC, Livermore, California.

With the help of Yates Publishing I've managed over three more generations to the SHARP family. Thank you so much." — CC, Hartford City, Indiana.

"Bingo! From one sheet of the bunch you sent me on DOGGETT, I solved a problem of several years, and advanced one branch of that line by one generation. It also gave me clues on another search." — APB, Atascadero, California.

I was very pleased to find in the papers you sent me information 9 generations back on Nicholas NEWTON and Melony MELTON." — JR, Hannibal, Missouri.

"I was going through the many sheets you sent to me and feeling somewhat disappointed because none of them appeared to have any relation at all to my family. Then, Bingo! there were three generations. It was worth all the money I spent on the names that didn't help. But, who knows, some of those names might also fall right in and fill a big hole one of these days." — LR, Belmont, California.

"This is a great idea. I like having the individual family group sheets on file. I have put lots of people I correspond with in touch. I have also enjoyed having them when I find a new link to my family and have built-in FGS to check on." — ME, San Clemente, California.

"I ordered some of your sheets on the NICKELL family in Virginia and West Virginia. Contacts made from these sheets revealed several family lines. I believe you have the best line of information available." — WD, Dodge City, Kansas.

"I recently purchased a family sheet on the HARRELL family and hit pay-dirt. A dozen new ancestors from a school teacher in Missouri." — CM, Charlottesville, Virginia.

La Genealogia Italiana - Italian Pedigree

Anthony J. Lascio

Once you've completed all your research in America, and only after that, you're ready to begin accessing the records of bella Italia. What good fortune you have if your roots are Italian. But there's both good news and bad news awaiting you in Italy. First the good news. Italy's records are among the very best in all of Europe; they have been accurately kept by the clergy for centuries dating back to the sixteen hundreds in most cases. In some locales, you can discover the church acts of baptism, marriage and death to the 1500s.

Civil archives are less historic, usually no further into history than the early eighteen hundreds. Remember Italy was not unified, i.e., the Republic we know today, until 1870. therefore, don't expect too much before then. But with the parish archives of the Roman Catholic Church preceding those of the Republic by multiple generations, you needn't be discouraged by the absence of historical civil resources.

Now, the bad news. Knowing that church records can take you back four hundred, even four hundred-fifty years will serve no purpose if you can't access them. Therein lies the dual problem.

First, these marvelous records have not been faithfully maintained. It would not be uncommon to learn of valuable one of a kind ledgers missing, mouse-eaten, water damaged, singed, and so forth. Countless cases have been reported where pages have been ripped out, mildew has stained the pages illegible and the ink of previous centuries has faded the inscriptions into oblivion. What a shame, what a loss!

The second problem is determining how you obtain that data. There have been reports from both amateur and professional genealogists alike, that cooperation from the Italian clergy has been disappointing. Italian-Americans, as myself, have written only to discover that our requests are ignored, even respectfully worded follow-ups, and many times our monetary inclusions are kept without receipt of our documents.

Whatever the problems, you cannot afford to be discouraged. There is just too much at stake. In fact, no one pursuing their Italian heritage should delay. With each passing month, these precious resources continue to deteriorate. If you procrastinate too long, some day the records you desperately require will no longer exist. You will be bitterly disappointed with no recourse.

It is strongly suggested you act now. If you know the ancestral town of your forebears, write now. Your best chance for success is to compose a respectful brief letter, typed in Italian and enclosing a "donation" in the form of an International money order or cashier's check. Request only a document or two initially and be patient, very patient. If no response is forthcoming in say, three months, send a tactful follow-up. Once you have established a rapport with the priest, continue to request additional Italian documents.

If you are very fortunate, he may even invite you to Italy.

Who is the statue? Mrs. Elizabeth Milliken Martin, 3000 Hurley Way West, Sacramento, California 95864, is shown on the left at the 50th Reunion of the Battle of Gettysburg. In the middle is her mother, Lucy Adams Milliken, and on the right is her grandfather, John Adams. She says, "Grandpa Adams fought with Pennsylvania troops and a cousin of his was with the Southern Army. They met here for the first time since war. My mother and I spent several days here during the reunion. Highlight of the visit was a reenactment of Pickett's Charge uphill. When the armies met, they shook hands instead of fighting. Very impressive."

CATHOLIC ARCHIVES OF TEXAS

Newly Published is the Guide to the Spanish and Mexico Catholic Archives of Texas.

The Manuscript Collection at the Catholic Archives of Texas, The Guide recently published is the completion of a vision dating back to 1923. Horrified by the destruction of the Ysleta mission church, built in 1682 and determined to fight against anti-Catholic forces marshalled by the Klu Klux Klan, the Texas Knights of Columbus in 1923 formed their Historical Commission. Seeking to preserve the Catholic heritage of Texas, the commission set as its goal the writing of a well-researched and academically sound history of the Catholic Church in Texas. The resulting seven-volume series, Our Catholic Heritage in Texas, exceeded that goal. It was written by Latin American historian Dr. Carlos E. Castaneda.

Simultaneous with the writing of Our Catholic Heritage in Texas, the Texas Knights of Columbus Historical Commission established the Catholic Archives of Texas (CAT) in 1923 to house materials relating to the history of the Catholic Church of Texas. The CAT, now housed in the Chancery building of the Diocese of Austin, includes among its holdings the original and photostat records gathered by the Historical Commission for the writing of Our Catholic Heritage in Texas. The records form the bulk of the Spanish and Mexican Manuscript Collection.

The bulk of the Collection consists of photostatic copies of records held in archival repositories in Spain and Mexico, among them the Archivo General de Indias in Seville, Spain and the Archivo General de Mexico in Mexico City; the Archivo de la Biblioteca Publica del Estado de Jalisco; the Archivo del Ayuntamiento de Matamoros; the Archivo del Colegio de Nuestra Senora de Guadalupe de Zacatecas; the Arhivo de San Francisco el Grande; and the Archivo del Museo Nacional, Departamento de Biblioteca Nacional. Original records in the Collection include over 800 documents from Nuestra Senora de Guadalupe del Paso del Rio del Norte, today known as the Juarez Cathedral in Ciudad Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico. Rare documents in the Collection also contains original correspondence and records from late Spanish Texas through the Mexican Texas period, notably a letter written by Agustin de Iturbe in 1821 and an emancipation certificate for a slave family in Missouri Territory, 1813. The provenance of these original records is not known, but they seem to have been placed with the Catholic Archives of Texas for safekeeping.

Photographing the Tombstones

It is a good idea to take a 35mm camera and plenty of film to document the tombstones. A Polaroid camera will give you information immediately if you have a good shot. Remember to take a step back and photograph the surrounding stones as a reference in relocating the area later - or to direct others to the site. An umbrella might aid as a suitable sunshade if it is too bright for a clear photo. If you are in an urban area, you may want to go to a 1-hour processing business to make sure your pictures are ok.

If you are in Poland or Lithuania, good luck on the first and only shots you get.

Your cemetery research will take you on a walk through Jewish history - each grave represents a life and a world left behind. If we are lucky, our children and grandchildren will care enough about us to visit our final resting places and stand over us thinking wonderful thoughts of how much our life meant to them.

Kiowa Chief to be placed in Hall of Fame

The National Hall of Fame for famous American Indians held a dedication ceremony on August 4 dedicating a bronze bust of Ahpeahstone in Anadarko, Oklahoma. He was the last Chief of the Kiowa Tribe.

Kiowa artist Sherman Chaddlesone was commissioned by the Hall of Fame Board and the family of Ahpeahstone to do the sculpture. It is the fourth bust Chaddlesone has done for the Hall of Fame.

Chief Ahpeahstone was born in 1855 and died 8 August 1930. He was the federally recognized Chief of the Kiowa Tribe. He promoted education, agriculture and Christianity for adoption by the Kiowa people. He realized the "old ways" were going away and for the Kiowas to survive, they had to learn to live with the white man.

Ahpeahstone believed that as Chief, he and his family should be self-supporting. His land allotment was one mile west and 1/2 mile south of Carnegie, Oklahoma. He raised cattle and horses and did row crop farming.

Ahpeahstone was the son of Red Otter, Kiowa leader. He was blood related to Little Otter and Red Cloud, the famous Sioux Chief. His father's brother was Chief Lone Wolf.

The Hall of Fame for Famous American Indians is located on Highway 62 East in Anadarko, Oklahoma.

American Indian Publishers offers Dictionary

The American Indian Publishers, Inc., PO Box 36535, Grosse Pointe, MI 48236 offers Dictionary of Indian Tribes of the Americas in a three volume set.

The ancient people remain in their homelands of North, Central and South America. Many are gone today, but the American Indian is not vanishing and many peoples remain to form a link with the ancient past. One need consider only the vast reaches of the American continents, areas where many different languages were spoken in pre-Columbian times and where many culturally different peoples had their being. From the polar ice cap of the northwest Greenland Inuit (Eskimo) to the bleak reaches of the Ahgan peoples at the southern tip of South America, through plain, fjord and desert to the tropical forests of the Orinoco and Amazon River basins, are scenes of diversity, adjustments, and adaptations to differing ecological and environmental conditions.

In the United States alone, many ancient traditions are still viable and more than one hundred-fifty Indian languages are spoken. The Hopi recreates his traditional rain plea while the Seminole continues to pole his pirogue through the waters of the Everglades. In the Arctic, the Inuit sea hunters manipulate their kayaks through the icy waters off the Arctic shores, while the Jivaro in South America trek through quicksand-infested swamps.

The set is $485.

This company also offers Biographical Dictionary of Indians of the Americas (Revised second edition, 1991, two volumes at $385) and Dictionary of Daily Life of Indians of the Americas (Revised Second Edition, 1996, at $485), Chronology of the American Indian (Revised Edition, 1994 at $85).

General Patton's ancestry. Are you kin?

In the Hite Foundation Association Newsletter recently there was an article on the ancestry of famous World War II General George S. Patton.

Robert H. Patton, grandson of the general, wrote a book in 1994 entitled The Pattons. The introduction to the book had a chart tracing the general's lineage back to his 3-great grandparents, Eleanor Hite and John Williams. Eleanor Hite was the granddaughter of Josh Hite, making the general the 5th grandson of Jost Hite.

The lineage on Robert H. Patton's chart is: Eleanor Hite (1750-1781) married John Williams. Their son, Isaac Hite Williams married Lucy Slaughter. Their daughter, Peggy French Williams (1804-1873) married John Mercer Patton (1797-1858). Their son, George Smith Patton (1833-1864) married Sue Glas-sell (1835-1883). Their son, George Smith Patton (formerly George William Patton) (1856-1927) married Ruth Wilson (1861-1928). Their son, Georgie (nickname) George Smith Patton (1885-1945) married Beatrice Ayer (1886-1953).

If you are kin to the Hite family, you might wish to write HFA, Belle Grove, PO Box 137, Middletown, VA 22645.

The Family Tree

In Salt Lake City, Utah, everyone is into "researching the family." Even the big department stores sell genealogical supplies.

A newcomer to Salt Lake City, and a non-researcher, got a job as a clerk at one of the big department stores. She received her introduction to genealogy one day when a customer came into the store and asked, "Where do I find the Family Group Sheets?"

The new clerk, with a puzzled look on her face, answered, "Family group sheets? All we carry are the king, queen, double and twin size sheet sets."

"Experience is the name genealogists give to their mistakes."

The Family Tree

Vol. VI Number 5 Section B - Printed for Postage Contributions October/November 1996

Schlemmer & Brisco hunt boney one down!

Gary L. Schlemmer of Valencia, Pennsylvania has tracked down that elusive boney fellow - who was lurking within the confines of the Jonathan Shepherd ad in our last paper - to win a beautiful Christmas wreath from the Christmas Tree Hill Nursery (which will be delivered at the appropriate time).

Kathryn Brisco, from Bennington, Oklahoma has hunted our skinniest fellow to the Jonathan Shepherd ad to win a super-doooper set of genealogical forms from The Skeleton Closet in Louisville, Kentucky.

Our Family Tree readers who also tracked down that wiley one include Virginia Weede of LaMarque, Texas (All of these successful hunters win subscriptions to reunions magazine), Elsie Pykonen of White Cloud, Michigan; Mrs. Buddy Samuels of Concordia, Missouri; Mrs. Larry M. Glasscock of Cullman, Alabama; Roger Mitchell of Coarsegold, California; R. Douglas MacDougall of Mandeville, Louisiana; Priscilla Herd of Newbury, New Hampshire; Reeda McDonald Thrasher of Kensett, Arkansas; M.A. Stranigan of Lake Lotawana, Missouri; Maureen Duncan of Indianapolis, Indiana; Louise H. Smith of Columbus, Mississippi; James J. Stewart of Manahaw, New Jersey; Margaret E. Zerwekh of Delafield, Wisconsin; Elda Anderson of Sun City, Arizona; and Everett Spackman of Laramie, Wyoming.

It's almost time for $400 drawing!

In time for the December issue of The Family Tree, a name will be drawn from everyone who has made a contribution to our Postage Hero fund during this year. (If you wish to be entered in the drawing without making a contribution - simply send a postcard asking to be entered.)

The $400 gift certificate is from Dunedin Scottish.

Now, what's a nice lad like the boney one doing with a crook?

Answer:
Why, it's a shepherd's crook,
of course!

You might like to know that we received the largest number of Skeleton entries this time in the history of our contest - a stack about a foot high!

Next time! Prizes from Hay's and Skeleton Closet and reunions magazine

Next time, our successful hunters might win a handsome tote bag from Hay's Adventures by Design or a valuable packet of genealogical forms from The Skeleton Closet...or one of 15 subscriptions to reunions magazine.

Why do we do it?

When folks begin their hunt for their own ancestors, sometimes they are worried about finding a "skeleton in the closet." Experienced genealogists know that everyone - without fail - has some kind of a skeleton, somewhere in their own background...and that, most of the time, it just isn't a very big deal (In fact, "skeleton's" leave pretty good paper trails and records!). So, for those who are worried, we at The Family Tree want to take the worry out of your ancestor hunt. We have our own wee boney one who hides within our pages each time. (Yikes. Remember, it was this time last year that the skeleton escaped between our offices and the printers office - and was seen as far away as Oregon before he meekly returned to his post in our pages? You may be sure, he is waxed, glued and taped down - not to mention a staple or two - so that he will not escape to go on his Halloween hi-jinks!)

Instead of being upset at finding that "skeleton in the closet" you are delighted - because you just might win a nice prize. Look carefully - and then send in your postcard. Write: Skeleton, The Odom Library, PO Box 1110, Moultrie, GA 31776.

Family Tree ezine getting hit, hit, hit!

The first edition of The Family Tree online edition - the ezine - edited by Max Marbles of Salem, Oregon has been added to several of the larger search engines, including Yahoo.

Figures show that in the first two months, the Internet magazine was "hit" (accessed) up to 150 times each day!

The second edition is up now and is easily accessible by finding Yahoo and typing in Family Tree online. When the two or three selections appear, choose the publication from the Odom Library and click there.

The ezine is the same/and different from the hard-copy publication you are reading now. Hotlinks make it possible to immediately connect with literally hundreds of resources.

Family Tree still "on the road"

A letter from your editor _____

What generosity! Our kind, generous Postage Heroes come to the rescue...

In the last issue of The Family Tree I explained about our Postage Heroes - and the need for your support with funds for mailing this publication. Your response was gratifying, humbling and wonderful. We thank you....but, we must ask that that level of support continue.

We really try to provide the best publication ever in the genealogical field and in the Scottish areas of interest - as well as in other ethnicities. It has turned out - although we never dreamed of it - that we have become the "bridge" between the Scottish community and the genealogical community - and vice versa. This is such a valuable service to us all...and one that has never been available before.

In order for The Family Tree to continue to present a quality publication we must ask that if you have not yet sent in a postage contribution to become one of our special Postage Heroes - that you please do so. Our postage alone - not counting paper and printing - was over $14,000 last issue. This amount never goes down - it always rises because of new subscribers and rising postal costs.

The Odom Library has absolutely no funding for The Family Tree. We have no "sugar daddy" anywhere (Although if you know of one - please YELL!). We must pay our own way. Our advertisers pay premium prices for our advertising space - and our Postage Heroes do valiant duty helping to mail our paper.

You are a part of all of this if you are reading this. You are a part of our library family and a part of the great genealogical community. We always appreciate your support.

Perhaps someday there will be space for me to write about Newfoundland dogs or my mare Sweet Thing and DooDah and Brendah Sue Louise (my other horse family). Maybe sometimes I can write about growing roses, needlework, painting or Narra (The Wonder Cat)...or even about genealogy.

Now though, we must ensure the survival of The Family Tree and think about POSTAGE.

I will take one paragraph to tell you how much your kind letters, calls and cards mean to me. Times such as now - when I have been working 12-14 hours a day and am so tired I could cry - I get a nice message from one of our readers and am energized all over again. Thank you for enjoying The Family Tree.

Some of you think we have a big building with offices and lots of folks working on this paper. In reality, there's me - and a very part-time volunteer who helps with the bills and their mailing. It is a labor of love on both our parts.

Safe water?

Next time you are aboard a sailing ship and are unsure of the safety of your drinking water - here is an idea taken from the sailing ships of old. In the 1600s, they would place a life frog in the barrel of drinking water and as long as the frog lived, the water was considered safe to drink. When/if the frog died, the remainder of the water was used for bathing, washing, etc. Another barrel of drinking water was tapped and the process was begun again with another life frog.

Scottish Heritage USA

Jacqueline P. Stewart, Managing Director, SHUSA

Scottish Heritage USA to hold Spring Gathering at the Eisenhower Center

Every two months about this time I sit down in front of my computer and wonder what I am going to say. Sometimes it's more difficult than others to come up with a topic, but this time there isn't a doubt in my mind. I know exactly what I want to write about.

"We are going to Kansas!"

"What?"

"It's true. Scottish Heritage USA will hold its 1997 Annual Spring Gathering at the Eisenhower Center in Abilene, Kansas on April 5, 1997."

There is a reason behind our move to America's heartland. For the past 20 years, our members and guests have traveled to a variety of venues up and down the east coast to enjoy a day of good food, great companionship, interesting guests of honor who have talked to us about a variety of topics and delightful Scottish entertainment. However, our members from other parts of the United States have been virtually excluded from our activities due to the long distances and the expense involved. So, instead of them coming to us, we are going to take our Spring Gathering to them.

By the time The Family Tree goes to press, the Grandfather Mountain Highland Games will have come and gone. All of us were there - officers, directors, staff, spouses and volunteers - pitching in, helping out and talking about the work of The National Trust for Scotland and Scottish Heritage USA. Attending Highland Games is one of the many ways we meet people who are interested in Scotland and Scottish culture.

The Grandfather Mountain Highland Games are not the only games! There are Highland Games and Scottish Festivals the length and breadth of the country and we try to have a representative at as many as possible.

That is where Scottish Heritage USA's volunteers come in. We are truly blessed with volunteer representatives in almost every corner of the United States. Long before Games' visitors arrive, our volunteers are on the field. They have toted all the tent supplies from their cars, set up tables, put up banners, laid out literature and merchandise and decorated the tables. By the time the gates open, they are ready to greet their guests. They will be there all day, come fair weather or foul, telling visitors about what we do and answering all sorts of questions.

But the question we hear most often is, "What clan do I belong to?" That is why most of our volunteers go to Games armed with copies of Kith and Kin and Tartan for Me. However, because Scottish Heritage USA is not a genealogical society, we can only take you the first step of the way.

At this point, let me plug you into a sister organization that is in the business of helping Americans of Scottish descent find their clan affiliations. The Council of Scottish Clans and Associations (COSCA) has a tent at many Scottish Games throughout the country, and their volunteers have the resources to get you in touch with your clan. If COSCA isn't on the field, our volunteers will be happy to help you as much as they can.

Following hard on the heels of, "What is my clan?" comes the second question, "What does Scottish Heritage USA do, if it is not a genealogical society?"

And, that is where our volunteers really come into their own. They will tell you about the many aspects of the work that Scottish Heritage USA does both here at home and in Scotland. They will tell you about the scholarship we give to a horticultural student every year to study at Threave, a National Trust for Scotland School of Horticulture. They will tell you about our nation-wide essay contest for youngsters from eight to eighteen. They will tell you about the contest we hold for an academic paper at East Tennessee State University, in conjunction with its Scottish Studies Summer Program.

And, they will tell how our members' support enables us to underwrite specific National Trust for Scotland projects every year, about The National Trust for Scotland lecturers that SHUSA has brought to this country in recent years to talk about their areas of expertise, and The National Trust for Scotland's work to restore, preserve and conserve Scotland's unique architecture, its historic sites and its beautiful countryside -- always keeping in mind that its mission is to keep its properties open and accessible to all.

Not only will our volunteers answer all your questions about The National Trust for Scotland, they will be able to give you pointers on what to see and where to go if you are visiting Scotland. They will give you our brochure, which explains in greater depth the work of Scottish Heritage USA, along with a great deal of free literature, including our newsletter and Heritage Scotland, the award-winning magazine published four times a year by The National Trust for Scotland.

Last, but not least, our volunteers will tell you about the benefits of becoming a member of Scottish Heritage USA. They will tell you that The National Trust for Scotland has extended to our members all the privileges of membership in the Trust, which means our members receive a year's subscription to Heritage Scotland and have free access to all National Trust for Scotland properties. Because The National Trust for Scotland has a reciprocal agreement with the Trusts of England, Wales and Northern Ireland, our members' membership cards are also good for free entry into Trust properties throughout the United Kingdom.

There is another reason for us going westward next spring. Scottish Heritage USA has had a longtime association with the Eisenhower family, and we would like to honor that association. Our founder, Ward Melville, was a personal friend of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. At the conclusion of WWII, the people of Scotland gave President Eisenhower an apartment at Culzean Castle for his use during his lifetime. Following his death, Scottish Heritage USA helped The National Trust for Scotland renovate the apartment. Scottish Heritage USA's association with the Eisenhower Center began in 1970 with a collaboration between the two organizations to create an Eisenhower exhibit describing the President's war years at Culzean Castle.

Scottish Heritage USA continues to have strong ties to the Eisenhower family and center. Dr. John E. Wickman, former Director of the Eisenhower Center, is a SHUSA Vice President and Director. Daniel D. Holt, the Center's current Director, is also a SHUSA Director. Mary Eisenhower Atwater is one of our Counsellors and

O'Brien Sept of North America registered

On June 7, 1996, the O'Brien Sept of North America, Inc., was officially registered as a non-profit historical and genealogical organization in the state of Utah.

The last official gathering of the O'Brien Clan (Sept) was in the summer of 1992 at Dromoland Castle, County Clare, Ireland. This gathering of O'Briens from around the world was the first gathering of this noble Irish family in 400 years.

Gary Bryant, wrote to the Clans of Ireland, Ltd., offices in Dublin, and a series of letters were exchanged, with the Clans of Ireland offering support for the establishment of an O'Brien organization in North America.

Gary Bryant then put out the word for the formation of an O'Brien organization on America OnLine (AOL) and received over 30 responses from around the country. Helping with the formation of the North American Branch are: David Brian Rowe (Wisconsin), Kevin J. O'Brien (New York), Sylvia Zalla (Massachusetts); and Sean O'Brien Lynch (Utah). These four individuals, along with Bryant, constitute the co-founders of the O'Brien Sept of North America, Inc.

There are three classes of membership: Individual ($15), Family ($25) and Life ($200). A quarterly newsletter, Lamh Laidir, will be produced - as well as various other journals and books in time.

Two scholarships foster study between the United States and Scotland. The James and Mary Dawson Scholarship is $5,000 is open to Scots coming to the United States for graduate work. The Donald Malcolm MacArthur Scholarship of $2,500 is available to US residents planning to study in Scotland or Scots planning to study in the US.

Sixteen awards, totalling $16,000 were made for 1996-1997.

All applicants must be able to cite their Scottish descent and must be in their third or fourth year in college or university or full time graduate student.

Other criteria applied by the fund include an identifiable need for financial assistance, a meritorious academic record, and an indication that the proposed course of study will materially contribute to the applicant's intellectual maturation and economic independence.

Special attention will be given to applicants whose work would demonstrably contribute to enhanced knowledge of Scottish history or culture. Finalists for the major awards must be willing, upon request, to present themselves for personal interview by the committee or its designated representative. Candidates either residing or attending school within a 200-mile radius of Washington are given preference among US applicants, although this is not a requirement.

Applications will be accepted up to March 15, 1997. Scholarship awards will be announced by May 31, 1997.

If you feel that you qualify for the above requirements, please request an application form between now and January 31, 1997. Write James S. McLeod, Chairman, Charity and Education Committee, St. Andrew's Society of Washington, DC, 7012 Arandale Road, Bethesda, MD 20817-4702.

Clinton salutes America's ethnic leaders

President Clinton hosted more than 200 ethnic leaders at the White House June 14 for a "Celebration of Ethnic America."

Ethnic community leaders were briefed on the status of the American family, educational opportunities for the new century, economic issues, domestic infrastructure, environmental topics and international developments by Clinton, Vice President Albert Gore, Secretary of Education Richard Riley and Anthony Lake, assistant to the president for national security affairs.

Clinton acknowledged the ethnic leader's unique understanding of the importance of the US engagement abroad. He thanked the leaders for their support of the administration's continued efforts to expand NATO and to resolve problems in Northern Ireland, Cyprus, the Middle East and Bosnia.

"Together we can create a world that has more opportunity and less slaughter than at any time in human history if we make the right decisions and if we keep our eyes on the future and on our children," he said.

Americans of European and Mediterranean heritage attended the event, including organization leaders, elected officials, teachers and business men and women active in community organizations and networks.

Americans of Albanian, Arab, Armenian, Baltic, Croatian, German, Greek, Hungarian, Irish, Italian, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Romanian, Serbian, Slovak and Ukrainian heritage were present.

Mise le mormheas...

A Chara...

Maybe you don't have time to take a class in Irish, but you would like to at least address your letters in Irish - or maybe you have always wondered what those funny looking words mean. Here are some same letter openers and closings with translations:

Openers A chara (Dear friend), A dhuine uasail (Dear sir), A bhean uasal (Dear Madam). Closings: Is mise, (Yours), Is me agat, (Yours), Mise le meas (Yours respectfully), Mise le mormheas (Yours very respectfully), and Go buíoch beannachtach (Effusively grateful).

Irish Society Archives discovers scrapbook

The AIHS archives possess a wealth of information and documentation of the Irish in New York City and beyond. In the ongoing process of organizing and cataloging a scrapbook with notes, correspondences and newspaper articles that detail a Society Field Day in 1916.

During the early part of the century, AIHS would sponsor an annual tour of New York. On October 28, 1916, 68 Society members, in two motor coaches, departed the New York Public Library at 11:00 AM. They followed a route through northern Manhattan over which American troops marched in 1776, recalling, as The Irish World newspaper stated, "the fact that many who fought for liberty and independence of the United States were of the Irish race."

After touring Central Park, Fort Washington and points in between, the group returned to luncheon at The Claremont on Riverside Drive and 16th Street, where a series of speeches were delivered. The cost of the tour and luncheon came to $2.50, but did not include the price of cigars. The Claremont bill details a total of $6 to purchase this added necessity.

Celebrate Samhain (Saw'en) 31 October/1 November

Samhain, the beginning of the Celtic year when the excess cattle which could not be kept over the winter had to be slaughtered. The bonfires associated with this time of year get their name from the "bone fires" in which the inedible parts of the carcasses were destroyed. As for the feasting which naturally went on at this time when freshly killed meat was so abundant, the ancient laws referred to it as "winter food" in contrast to the dairy produce that was available in summer. The slaughter of pigs during winter and the local custom of the "boucherie" and the cranking of the ice cream freezer during the summer months when milk, cream and eggs are abundant were noted as current parallels to these ancient rites.

The Celts believed that everything encountered each day needed "saining" (blessing) to drive out the lurking demons.

Because the period of the New Year was believed to be a gap in time, barriers between our world and the Other World were removed, and one could cross from one into the other. Since this was the night when the dead were considered to be in communion with the living, few people ventured out of doors.

Because of this belief of the two worlds coming together, providing hospitality to one's dead ancestors was an important part of this feast, since the dead were believed to return to visit the homes where they had lived. The Celtic feat of Samhain concerning the dead has undoubtedly influenced the Christian feasts of All Saints Day and All Souls Day when many Catholic people in Europe and the Americas go to cemeteries and light candles or place flowers on the graves of the dead. The bonfires of Samhain are now more likely to be lit in Britain on November 5, when Guy Fawkes Night is taken over the sacrificial aspect of this feast. These rituals are also seen a few days later on Interesting things about Highland dancing...

Did you know that the Sword Dance represents the triumph of good over evil, and that the winning sword is held in the right hand and laid over the losing sword, held in the left hand?

Did you know that the Highland Fling is generally accepted to represent the stag on the Scottish hillside, with the dancer's uplifted arms and finger placement represent the "Cabarfeidh" or stag antlers held proudly aloft?

Did you know that the intricate swirling patterns of the Highland Reel, Strathspey and Reel of Ruloch are very remi-niscant of the Celtic patterns of life, which demonstrate the ongoing eternal interaction of everyone and everything in the future and past of us all.

Scots at Elderhostel by Ken McCartney

Elderhostel provides an inexpensive vacation-learning experience for senior citizens. Sponsored by universities - either on campus or at nearby resorts "off season" - many of the programs have a Scottish or Scots-Irish flavor.

In November, 1995, my wife and I attended an all-Scottish Elderhostel at Kenlake Lodge in the TVA region of western Kentucky. Sponsored by nearby Murray State University, the entire week was devoted to Scottish subjects.

A variety of instructors covered Scottish history and migration to Northern Ireland and North America; Scottish cuisine (with samplings of straight malt whisky!); the poetry of Robert Burns and others. A group of country dancers from Vanderbilt University came to demonstrate and teach country dancing.

The main emphasis was on tartans. Sally Guy, who designed a tartan for the Presbyterian Synod of the Living Word, taught us about the history of tartans and Highland dress. Sally showed us how to draw our Clan tartan (I chose Mackintosh hunting, old colors), or to design a new tartan. She brought a small hand loom and showed us how to weave the Gordon tartan. Several of us tried out hand.

Murray State plans to sponsor another Scottish Elderhostel in November 1996. To be on the Elderhostel mailing list (55 years or older - but your spouse may be under 55) write: Elderhostel, 75 Federal St., Boston, MA 02110-1941.

How little of human life is told from our fathers in traditional story. Family Tree Topper

A new name for Ray...

Ray Williams changes his name

Dear Friends,

I have decided to use my fathers name of McQuilkin instead of my stepfathers name of Williams. This name change, is for the time-being, only within the Scottish community. I would like to hear from anyone of this name or of the name of Wilkinson from Cumberland and Roberson Counties of North Carolina.

I have in my possession copies of old deeds where they used the names McCulkin, McWilkin, McQuilkin and Wilkinson - and will be glad to share any information I have.

From my research it appears that the family migrated from Killean, Kichenzie in Kintyre about 1770 to the Cape Fear area of North Carolina.

Please write Raymond McQuilkin, 6201 Ricky Allen Road, Corryton, TN 37721.

Scotswomen of the Year Awards by Glasgow Evening Times

Mrs. Gwen Mayor and Sister Mary Chisholm have jointly won the 1996 Scotswoman of the Year Award.

Mrs. Mayor was the Dunblane Primary Teacher who lost her life protecting the children in her class in the tragic events of March 13.

Sister Mary spent a lifetime working for the profoundly deaf - from her volunteer work as a child through to her professional role as a member of the Daughters of the Charity Order working at Glasgow's St. Vincent's Centre for Deaf People.

Twelve finalists were chosen for the award from nominations received from readers of the Glasgow Evening Times, who then voted for the 1996 winners. Sister Mary and Mrs. Mayor's daughters, Esther and Deborah, accepted the Evening Times Silver Rose Bowl, which was presented by Kaye Adams of STV's Scottish Women.

With thanks to Scottish Field.

Packing for a reunion or trip

Travel basics: Make a check list before starting to pack. Keep your list with your favorite luggage. Add to it as you think of things you don't want to forget. The best time to add to your list is right after a trip. You should have in your suitcase scissors, tweezers, sharp knife (sheath in a cardboard folder and secure with Scotch tape), screwdrivers, flashlight, travel alarm, snacks (raisins, crackers, etc.) Krazy glue, Scotch tape, stapler, reclosable plastic bags for shoes, clothing hasn't dried overnight, all sizes, all kinds (They don't take up any room nor do they weigh anything and come in handy for so many things.), medical supplies, allergy medication, shaving kit, aspirin, toothbrush, toothpaste, comb, brush, shampoo, etc.

Haskell Society reunites families

The Haskell Family Society has reunited many "lost" family members including first cousins - and in once instance, an uncle and nephew living in the same town. The greatest coup came on 29 May 1996 when we reunited two sisters, desperately seeking each other for the last 65 years.

With members in 10 countries around the world able to trace their origins to a little corner of southwest England through 500 years of recorded family history, the society's international aspect proved of great value in bringing these sisters together, one living in England, the other in far western Canada. A half-sister and three half-brothers in New Zealand and Australia also share in the joy of the reunion. For the members and officers of our society, it was a truly satisfying experience to play a park in bringing so much happiness to these deserving people.

Membership in The Haskell Family Society is open to all Haskell descendants at 8 pounds UK, $11.00 USA or $13 Canadian and includes our informative quarterly Newsletter, free unlimited queries and gratis research. To apply for membership or request further details, please contact our Hon. Secretary, Mrs. Mary Haskell, 21 Royston Way, Slough, Berks, England SL1 6EP.

Flowers of the Forest

Charles Laws of Newark, Delaware, died last June 1. He was a member of the Scottish Historic and Research Society of the Delaware Valley. He traced his ancestry back to General MacLaws of the Confederate Army.

Daniel Blair died May 13, 1996, less than a month after his 30th birthday. He was the son of Clan Blair members Lois and Don Blair of Arnold, Missouri. He had fought 5 1/2 year battle with cancer.

Commander Algernon H. (Hub) Kerr, Jr., (USN, ret) died April 27, 1996 at his home in Monroe, NC.

A native North Carolinian, Mr. Kerr was born October 5, 1919 in Clinton. His father, Dr. Algernon H. Kerr, served as a Veterinarian in the US Army and then was the State Veterinarian for North Carolina. Mr. Kerr's mother, Mary Cooper Kerr, was an accomplished musician who wrote the music for the North Carolina State Song, The Old North State.

Kerr attended both the University of North Carolina and North Carolina State and graduated from the US Naval Academy, Naval War College and Harvard Business School. He served a distinguished 22 year career as a Naval officer, working his way up the ranks from enlisted man through Commander. He saw service beginning during World War II in the Pacific and culminating as the Financial Advisor to Midshipmen at the US Naval Academy. While serving in sea duty, he became highly skilled in underway replenishment techniques for the Navy. He was instrumental in developing a graphical stock control system to control underway replenishment for ships at sea, which proved extremely valuable in the Korean Conflict. He also developed a training film for the Navy on resupply techniques.

After his retirement from the Navy in 1962, Mr. Kerr worked with the Exchange National Bank in Atchison, Kansas and still later as Vice President of Administration at North Carolina National Bank (NCNB - now NationsBank in Charlotte). There he oversaw the installation and operation of the bank's computer driven microfilm records system. Later, he became a realtor and helped at the family real estate business (Kerr Realty) in Monroe.

Ancestrally a Scotsman, Mr. Kerr is fondly remembered by a large number of people around the US for his extensive work on the Kerr/Carr family genealogy, a labor of love for over 20 years. Until his death, he was the Genealogy director for the Kerr Family Association of North America, and had authored several books on the family genealogy.

Survivors include his wife, Billie Gordon Kerr; brother, Burke Kerr of Clinton, NC; sister, Betty Kerr Ware of Georgetown, TX; son, Fred C. Kerr of Seattle, WA; daughter, Peggy E. Kerr of Asheville, NC; stepdaughter, Loretta Gordon James, grandchildren, Heather Ann Kerr and Brian David Kerr of Seattle, WA, five step-grandchildren, Russell and Kelly James of Greensboro and Michael Jr., Kevin and Jeffrey Gordon.

He was preceded in death by his stepson, Michael K. Gordon.

Memorials may be made to the First Baptist Church, 109 Morrow Ave., Monroe, NC 28112 or Hospice of Union County, 700 W. Roosevelt Blvd., Monroe, NC 28110.

Catherine M. Pollock passed away at age 92 on Mother's Day.

Bud Pollock and Henry Pollock, staunch supporters of Clan Pollock have died. Henry died 19 April 1996 in Sarasota, Florida. He was the Florida Commissioner until 1994. Bud died 31 May 1996 at Peterborough, Ontario, Canada. Bud held many positions in Clan Pollock.

Edwin E. O'Hara a long time member of Clan Mackintosh of North America died May 14, 1996. His home was in Etowah, NC.

2500 year-old statue discovered in Germany

The Washington Times reported that a 2500 old statue of a Celtic prince has been discovered in Germany which is thought to be one of the most important archaeological finds in Europe in decades.

The 6-foot, 500-pound sandstone statue, in near perfect condition, was discovered 24 June at a Celtic gravesite near Glauburg, northeast of Frankfurt, Germany. Hesse State Archaeologist Fritz-Rudolph Herrmann said that, "Until now, we didn't know that the Celts could build statues of this size and refinement."

Egyptian pipers?

Did you know that the Egyptian

Army of the 1880s and the 1890s had bagpipers? Because the Egyptian Army was reorganized British Army Officers, their influence was felt. The kilt was not worn, but the regular Egyptian Infantry uniform was work - consisting of the normal fez, khaki, dark blue or white uniform. White leggings were worn with the blue or white uniform. Puttees were worn with the khaki uniform. Pipebags were green as possibly were the pipe ribbons.

Burns honored in Vermont

While Scots in Dumfries carried wreaths in a procession honoring Robert Burns on the exact date of his death 200 years ago, members of the American-Scottish Alliance gathered in Springfield, Vermont to hold a program of music and recitation representing the US tribute to the poet.

9-year old Alexa Hupper, the COSCA Harp Scholarship winner. Her thank you letter to Royce McNeill, FSA Scot, COSCA Scholarship Chairman, is included here.

Letter from Alexa

Dear Mr. McNeill,

Thank you so much for my scholarship. I used half of it this year to go to the Scottish Arts School in Oberlin, Ohio and will use half of it for next year. I learned so many new tunes at the school this year and had a lot of fun and I took 2nd place in Novice at the Ohio Scottish Games.

Maybe next year I will get to compete at the Grandfather Mountain Highland Games.

I hope you were safe during the hurricane!

Thank you for getting me a pen-pal from the Isle of Barra. I think we will become good friends.

I love to play the harp and I will always thank you for helping!

Alexa Hupper

Adopt a Scottish dolphin!

The bottlenose dolphins which represent one of only two resident dolphin populations known to exist in UK waters (the other location being Cardigan Bay in Wales) are the best known inhabitants of Moray Firth. There are thought to be over 100 of them living there, in an area rich in its variety of whales, dolphins and porpoises. The harbor porpoises are the most likely to be sighted, although minke whales and white beaked dolphins may also be seen further out to sea. Pilot whales, killer whales and Risso's dolphins are also present in Moray Firth, although only killer whales are likely to be spotted from the shore.

The friendly "flippers" glide through the waters of the Moray Firth and are available for adoption through the Dolphin Conversation Society. The money goes toward the Society's fund raising scheme. Over 30,000 people have already paid 30 pounds for an adoption pack - certificate and picture of the dolphin which has been adopted (What a great Christmas present for the person "who has everything.").

THE PIPES AND DRUMS OF THE 1ST BATTALION THE BLACK WATCH (ROYAL HIGHLAND REGIMENT)

Arguably Scotland's most famous Highland regiment. The Black Watch can trace its history as far back as 1739 when it took 42nd precedence in the "Line." The traditional Pipes and Drums are now the only "Musicians" attached to the regiment since it became part of The Highland Division Band. The pipers wear the famous "Royal Stewart" tartan with plaid whilst the drummers of the band wear scarlet tunics with "drummers lace" and Government Tartan kilts. It is said that all Highland Regimental Tartans originate from the Government Tartan. This magnificent 13 piece band set comprises Drum Major, Pipe Major, Pipers, Bass Drummer, Tenor Drummers and Side Drummers.

ZACHOR ET HA-DOROT

"Remember the Generations"

Carol Davidson Baird

In my mother's hometown of Opole, Poland in 1989, we asked a random lady walking by the post office if she knew where the Jewish cemetery was and she said she remembered because of an article a few years back telling of the Gentile's clean-up of the Jewish cemetery on All Saint's Day every year. She was a Russian who escaped the Nazis as far as Poland and stayed all these years, but she knew German being so close to Germany and the fact that Opole was once a German town. She not only knew where the cemetery was, but she led us there, traipsed through the stinging nettle weeds with us and offered to drive us back to our cars and arrange for us to purchase gasoline. Two months after we returned home, this lovely lady sent me a list of the Jewish burials in Opole which she had found in the city archives. Her daughter now does research for me. So much for anti-semitic Poles!

In the same year in Roudnice, Czechoslovakia, my mother, in German, asked the oldest person in the town square where the synagogue and Jewish cemetery were. She received very explicit instructions which led us to an area with no discernible synagogue. After asking others including the officers in the Police station who also gave us no directions and said the synagogue was "Kaput", gone. We gave up and went back to our cars in defeat. When a group of ladies exited a beauty parlor across the street, one young woman came to our car, looking enviously at it with her husband. Mom asked her if she knew the location of the synagogue and cemetery. She turned to the other beauty parlor ladies and asked if they knew. One did and gave very explicit directions out of town. The young lady said she knew where to go, gave her purse to her husband, got in one of our cars and directed us out of town onto a dirt road where we stopped in front of a Catholic cemetery. We thought she had misunderstood us, but she was merely stopping to get further directions from a very old man sitting by a tree near the cemetery. He pointed further down the dirt road. After about a quarter of a mile, we stopped in front of a forest of trees. We saw nothing, but got out anyway. There, to our left, we climbed over a broken stone wall, brushed away the low-hanging branches of a tree and to our astonishment, we saw what we thought was the old, burnt-out synagogue of Radnitz an der Elbe, now called Roudnice nad Labem, with the Star of David still intact but without the stained glass. Because our synagogue's Torah came from this synagogue, we were more concerned with bringing back remnants from this destroyed little house of worship with Hebrew still painted on its walls than with the cemetery which was in the field behind the cemetery. Two years ago, my parents returned only to find the Star of David now gone, more graffiti on the walls, but did see many broken tombstones amidst high weeds in the back of the former synagogue. Many of the stones were transported to Prague for storage and restoration. According to Gruber's book, what we found was not the synagogue, but the ceremonial hall in front of the cemetery.

Your quest may often be frustrated by desecration, broken stones, dense overgrowth or absence of stones, but you must still proceed with your search.

Physical Appearance of Tombstones

Most remaining Jewish cemeteries in Europe are from the 18th and 19th centuries. In the US many cemeteries date back to the 1700s. According to Ruth Gruber, in Europe the physical appearance of gravestones varies a little from country to country depending on local cultural influences and, starting in the 19th century, on the degree of Orthodoxy or assimilation of the local Jewish community.

Galician study underway

In 1781, Franz Joseph II of Austria invited Palatine Mennonite farmers to populate the district of Austria known as Galicia. By 1880 the population had grown so much that many families had emigrated to the US and had settled in Kansas and Minnesota. T.P. Miller, PO Box 2182, Jackson, TN 38302, is revising and correcting earlier accounts of this migration. Records and information regarding families involved in the migration are sought.

Anniversary commemoration in Cashel Co., Tipperary

The 400th Anniversary Commemoration of the death of King Donal IX MacCarthy Mor was attended last June in Cashel County, Tipperary, by over 200 Gaelic nobles, their families and guests from Ireland, Great Britain, Europe, North Africa and America, as well as by many members of Clan MacCarthy. King Donal IX (1558-1596) was the last reigning king of Desmond and titular King of Munster.

Those attending the Commemoration from America included two Lords of Comital Status, Castlecormac (CA) and Mashanaglas (SC) and by several Lords of Baronial status including Aglish (AL), Ballea (VA), Carigacashel (PA), Castlequin (NY), Cloghroe (AL), Kilbonane (AL), Kilmeedy (NY) and Skart (VA). These were joined by a number of additional Americans who were also Companions of the Niadh Nask (The Military Order of the Golden Chain) which historians hold to have been established by King Mininheamhoir in 962 B.C.

The ceremonies included a memorial service at Cashel Cathedral, lectures by the present MacCarthy Mor who is head of the Irish Royal House of Munster, a tour of the ancient fortress and cathedral called the Rock of Cashel, a formal banquet at the Cashel Palace Hotel and private meetings with The MacCarthy Mor.

Among the major personalities were Irish Chiefs and Chieftains including The O'Brien, Prince of Thomond and Head of the Royal House of Thomond; The O'Donovan, Chairman of the Standing Council of Irish Chiefs and Chieftains; The O'Donoghue of the Glens; and The O'Long of Grranelongy; as well as the Duke of Saint-Bar and The Cheavalier Michael Egan of Redwood Castle, President of the Association of Papal Knights in Ireland, and various representatives of government in Ireland.

This was said to be the largest gathering of Gaelic nobility in Munster since the death of King Donal. The Baron of Kilbonane shared previous issues of The Family Tree with many attending who deeply appreciated the extensive interest of Americans in Gaelic and Celtic culture and heritage.

Danish help available

When searching for Danish records at a Family History Center (LDS Church), look under a parish's probate section. The names of the farms are given. At the beginning of the Danish fiche, names of the parishes are given and the county each parish is in is given. If the date of birth is not given in the baptismal records, check the confirmation record about 14 years later where the date of birth is found.

Another tip is to military levying roles to further your male lines. The father's name is given with the son's name which helps when so many names are similar. This pertains to dates up until about 1860.

From 1840-1875, Danes had to check out of parishes when they left and into new parishes upon arrival. It may there prove helpful if your family was on the move to try for these parish records.

Le Havre emigration records may help

Records of Embarkation from LeHavre for 1780-1840 are in existence. Le Havre was the port of embarkation for many emigrants from Switzerland and southern Germany during that period. These are records that have not been filmed by the LDS. They include birth date or age, birthplace, parents' names and spouses' maiden names. You may inquire about these records: Groupement Genealogique du Havre et de Seine-Maritime, B.P. 80, F-76050 Le Havre Cedex, France. Immigration History Center

The Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation has completed the restoration of the Statue of Liberty and the Ellis Island buildings. They are now ready to begin the creation of The American Family Immigration History Center on Ellis Island. Genealogists are invited to contribute to its establishment.

The center will have computer terminals to access a huge database of information about the arriving ships, names of arriving emigrants, the places of births, marriage status, names of descendants and even the possibility to add information about current generations. Planned projects include the scanning of photos, recording or oral history, a research laboratory for scholars and historians and Internet links to world wide data basis.

The first step will be entry of information from ship manifests of all passengers passing through the Port of New York and Ellis Island from 1892-1924. Your contribution will place your name in the Register of Charter Founders.

Write for further information: Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation, PO Box 1955, New York, New York 10117-1955.

Hungarian research source for genealogists

If you are researching Hungarian genealogy you might like to know that church records, transcripts of Jewish records and many census records for areas within the modern borders of Hungary were microfilmed in the 1960s. Civil registration began in Hungary in 1895. These records are kept at local civil registrar's offices in town halls. For a few counties the civil registration records through 1910 have been microfilmed. Information from civil registration can be obtained by writing to the Hungarian Embassy. The fee is $10 per certificate and it takes 2-3 months. Write to The Embassy of the Hungarian Republic, 3910 Shoemaker St., NW, Washington, DC 20008.

Louise Dibble to appear at Weekend

"I have a song to sing" best describes the life of Louise Dibble, Sarasota (FL) musician, balladeer and composer. She uses voice and the zither to perform and showcase the folk ballads of America and the pioneers who settled throughout the nation. Mrs. Dibble has a background of singing, teaching - from dance bands to opera, radio, tv and soloist. She served on the faculty of The Ohio State University as artist-in-residence, in Columbus, Ohio, and for other colleges in that area.

After moving to Florida, she discovered a new singing interest in traditional American Folk Song - and finds them to tell the history of the United States in a new and exciting way. Through extensive research, her lectures and songs tell the story of America from colonial times to the early 1900s. She teaches for the Elderhostel Program.

She is a graduate of Park College, Kansas City, Missouri and earned her Masters Degree in Music and Vocal Pedagogy at Ohio State University. She will appear at the Ceilidh on Saturday evening at the Scottish Weekend in Moultrie this coming February.

Louise Dibble, from Sarasota, Florida, to perform in Moultrie.

Robert the Bruce's heart discovered

Scottish conservationists think they have found the mummified heart of Robert the Bruce, the 14th century Scottish king who resisted the English and won independence for Scotland.

The heart, discovered in a medieval casket, proves that Bruce's supporters honored his dying wish to be buried at Melrose Abbey in the southwestern corner of Scotland.

The king took up the independence battle from William Wallace. Bruce was crowned king of Scotland in 1306 after he led an uprising against King Edward I of England.

Known for his doggedness, said to have been inspired by watching a spider painstakingly weaving its web, he led the defeat of the army of England's King Edward II in 1314. In 1328, a year before he died, he signed the treaty of Northampton, which recognized Scottish independence and his own kingship.

Tracing Scottish ancestry through The Scots Ancestry Research Society

Tracing ancestry back to Scotland and then back to Scottish records is becoming very popular and many people can successfully trace their families at least to the 18th century.

In Scotland the registration of births, marriages and deaths became compulsory in 1855 and after that date annual indexes are available. Prior to 1855 most surviving registrations were made in the predominantly Church of Scotland parish registers. The parish was the area around the local church and each parish kept its own records, with varying degrees of enthusiasm and competence.

There are gaps in some records owing to contemporary indifference or subsequent neglect of the registers resulting in damage by damp, mice, etc.

Parishes began keeping registers at different times: in general those in the center, south and east of Scotland start in the 17th century (Edinburgh Canongate was the first, in 1654), with those in the north and west starting during the 18th century and those in the Gaelic speaking islands only keeping records from the 19th century. The old parochial registers are now all centralized in Edinburgh along with the decennial census returns available from 1841-1891 - which list each member of the family with their age and parish of birth from 1851. The Registers of Sasines (land and property transactions), as well as most sources of wills and other legal documents are also held in Edinburgh.

In order to initiate a search where the family have left Scotland, it is first necessary to trace the family back, generation by generation, to establish the name and some details of the ancestor who was born in Scotland. The name and date and place of birth (or marriage) and, preferably, also the parents' names, all help to ensure correct identification of the individual in Scottish records. The ship's passenger list, immigration record, the marriage or death certificate, tombstone, census returns, or even the name given to property acquired or built, can all give information helpful to establishing a starting point in Scotland.

The Scots Ancestry Research Society was set up in 1945 by the then Secretary of State for Scotland, the Rt. Hon.

Thomas Johnston, MP, as a nonprofit making organization to assist people of Scottish descent, particularly those living in America, to trace their Scottish heritage and those concepts still hold today. The Society deals with hundreds of inquiries every year and has a team of experienced researchers. Although nonprofit, the Society receives no assistance or sponsorship and so it has to charge fees to cover the costs of running its office and visitor center, as well as searching costs and fees for the use of some of the records. At present the minimum fee stands at 40 pounds sterling ($70) and clients are requested to authorize additional expenditure as they wish. The average cost of tracing one ancestral line back as far as possible is in the region of 150 pounds to 200 pounds. Written inquiries and visitors are welcome to The Scots Ancestry Research Society, 29b Albany St., Edinburgh, EH1 3QN: Telephone/Fax: 011-44-311-556-4220.

Indispensable Dictionary

Genealogists soon discover that modern dictionaries do not always contain the definitions for the many confusing words found in church records, court records, land records, census records and mortality records. Neither do these dictionaries include the abbreviations, meanings of old occupations, explanations of the various ailments that afflicted and killed our ancestors, the geographical, foreign, historical, legal, relational, household, religious, colloquial, monetary and ethnic terms found in old records.

PAULK GENEALOGY & RESEARCH P O BOX 275 - FISH CREEK RD SALEM, FL 32356 (904) 584-4280

Publication Announcement!

Survey of Lafayette Co., FL Cemeteries

This is a survey and index of the Lafayette County Cemeteries with a detailed location description as of August 1996. Personally surveyed by Jessie H. and Delma Wilson Paulk with the able assistance of numerous citizens of Lafayette County.

This book is being published for the authors by Ted Evans' Printers, Savannah, Georgia. It is hardbound, printed on archival paper, fully indexed, 400 pages and 8 1/2 x 11 size. It contains all of the known cemeteries, private, church and city; and includes both black and white of this county, for a total of 43 cemeteries. Genealogical data such as full name, birth/death date, spouse, children, parents and marriage date - although not on the tombstone, was added if known. We researched numerous published family histories, marriage records, census records and newspaper obituaries as well as interviewing various Lafayette countians, to try and make this as complete for the researcher as possible. The wife's maiden name and married name are both indexed.

Notice: There will be a limited number of copies printed, therefore, you must submit your order as soon as possible. Cost of the book is $45 which includes packing and shipping. Books will be delivered no later than 1 November 1996.

I am Jessie H. Paulk, a native of Georgia and am considered to be a professional genealogist with over 30 years hands-on experience. Delma Wilson Paulk is a native of Perry, Florida. We have published four books to date on family history (Paulk, Vickers, Lott & Hogan), two Georgia County cemetery books (Taylor & Lafayette). Dixie County will be ready late 1996.

Are You Searching For Someone?

Let us help you find those long-lost ancestors!

Now you can put The Family Tree's over 65,000 circulation to work for you to find those missing ancestors. With distribution in all 50 states and more than a dozen foreign countries, we can help you find those long-lost relatives.

A new publication, The Great Query Paper, is inserted in each issue of The Family Tree. For just 25 cents per word we'll publish your queries.

Many readers have requested that their queries be printed in The Family Tree ... so many, in fact, that space did not allow for most of them. But now your query can reach all of The Family Tree's readers through The Great Query Paper.

Guidelines for submitting queries

1. Queries run once.
2. Cost is 25¢ a word. Dates EX: 4 May 1841 or 1841-1855 count as ONE word. Name and addresses DO count.
3. Single abbreviations EX: b (born) d (died), do NOT count. Nor does punctuation.
4. If you run multiple queries and want your name and address listed separately with each query, count your address for each query.
5. Double check dates & spelling of names.
6. Indicate SURNAMES clearly by underlining them or printing in all-caps.
7. Make sure that the event clearly refers to the individual. EX: John Smith b 1823 d 1893 m Jane Jones 1843. NOT John Smith b 1823 m Jane Jones 1843 d 1893. (Who died in 1893 Jane or John?)
8. Typed or printed queries are preferred for accuracy.

Custer's shirt sold

It was just a wool shirt but it was worn by General George Armstrong Custer. The shirt, found in Custer's supplies after his famous last stand on the Little Big Horn River in eastern Montana, was sold for $32,000 at an auction recently. Alexander Acevedo, owners of Alexander's Gallery in Manhattan, called the price a bargain. The shirt, in good condition except for souvenir clippings from the tail, was appraised at between $40,000-$60,000 by the Ribamobley Gallery of Glastonbury, Connecticut, who sponsored the auction. Other items sold: arrows taken from the bodies of soldiers and an Sioux pony whip.

Do-Whatchie fund growing bit by bit

We need 7732 folks with $1.00 each or one friend with $7732

Somewhere there are sleazy, buzzard-like aliens planning an assault of the books in the Odom Library. It is our hope that we will have our security system, with sensors at the door and do-whatchies in every book before these slimy creatures can come to earth and find our library!

The complete system costs $12,000 and we have all but $7732 of those funds. Since there is no money available for this, we have asked our readers and those who use the library to send $1.00 each for the do-whatchies.

Contributions have come from Jan Tucker, Mrs. Leslie Jeffcoat Maddocks, Ormon M. Keathley, Jennifer Gamsuid, Dale Baird, G.R. Skinner, LaRue Hergoe, David Anderson, Erma Jean Self, Mary M. Campbell, Margaret S. MacLeod Covey, Margaret Gagliardi, John Smith, Flora Tarr, Virginia N. James, Dan Berry, Mrs. Doris A. Kusch, Louise Tesoriere, Clifford C. Nelson, Robert Jones, Hermoine Scherer, Robert McGregor, Euphemia Ward, The Paisley Family Society, Jean Sutherland Griffin, Ms. Ruth Cook, Ms. Roberetta Amundsen, Bill and Nancy Sloan, Janet Edwards, Betty T. Benson, Emily C. Heggood, Joan Griffis, Joan C. Tatro, Mrs. Richard W. Freisinger, David E. MacDonald, Sally Ghirardi, Therese Tweed, Elizabeth & Carl Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cox, Jan Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cox, Margaret Harrison, M. Dixon, Ardis Davison-Wolven and J.T. Thrasher.

We know that none of our upstanding library patrons would dream of taking any library materials - but we must be ready for those outer space aliens!

Please send your contributions to Do-Whatchie Fund, Odom Library, PO Box 1110, Moultrie, GA 31776. We thank you all very much.

Scotch-Irish Family Research Made Simple, rev. ed. by R. G. Campbell relates the origin and movements of these pioneers. Maps trace their movement from the lowlands of Scotland to Ulster in the north of Ireland to America, through Pennsylvania, Virginia, and the Piedmont section of the Carolinas. This book explains how to trace your family to the immigrant ancestor who arrived in the 1700s, and how to contact sources in Ireland. Belfast and Dublin Public Records Offices are reviewed. Public Archives and church sources are listed. Publ. 1992. Biblog. 65p.

The Book of Crests of Scottish-American Clans by Mike McLaren presents both Scottish and Scottish-American clan crests, and depicts both ancient and modern crests of Scottish clans. The 250 crests are beautifully drawn and list the clan's name blazon, and motto. The introduction gives a brief description of the crests, their use and meaning, and a glossary explains heraldic terminology and defines the symbolic meanings pertaining to the devices used in the crests. Publ. 1990. 272p.

Scotland. Depicting all of Scotland in impressive detail from the Lowlands to the Hebrides, the 3-map set was first published in England in 1834 by the Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge. Printed on three large sheets, the maps represent Scotland in the early 19th century and include a table of place name changes. Towns, villages, shires, and roads are clearly shown. We have also included a small 1805 map of Scotland in each set. A Jonathan Sheppard reprint. 4 maps.

Scottish American Heirs, 1683-1883 by David Dobson contains abstracts of every Scottish-American connection found in the records of the Services of Heirs in the 200 years between 1683 and 1883! This makes the records an invaluable source for those seeking a trans-Atlantic family connection, as many of the entries link families in North America with Scotland. As a rule, the abstracts give, for the deceased, his name, occupation, residence in Scotland, date of inquest, and relationship to heirs; for the heirs, name, occupation, place of residence in America, and relationship to the deceased. Arranged alphabetically by the name of the deceased. All other names mentioned are listed in the index. Publ. 1990, 1992. Index. 165p.
E0783 Hardbound $21.50

Scottish Castles and Fortifications by Christopher Tabraham sets out to unravel the mystery of castles and fortifications: Who were they built for? Why? By using as examples those castles and fortifications in state care, and readily accessible to all, the author guides the reader through their fascinating story, from feudal times through to the present day. Illus. 80p.
